LOCAL MATTERS.

Sun and Tide Table.

Sun rises tomorrow at 5:10 and sets at 6:47. High water at 8:55 a. m. and 9:29 p. m.

Weather Probabilities.

For this season showers and cooler tonight. Tuesday partly cloudy; light to moderate variable winds.

PROPOSED ELECTRIC LINE.

Recent developments in New York, Baltimore, Richmond, and Norfolk among capitalists interested in suburban and interurban electric lines indicate that a gigantic movement has been inaugurated, which, if successful, will establish a through electric line from Boston, Mass., to Norfolk, Va., running by way of New York, Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Pa., Washington, Alexandria, Fredericksburg, Richmond, and terminating at Norfolk, Va., from which point the system will be extended later into the southern states.

South from Washington to Norfolk three separate companies are looking over the field for the location of electric lines that will connect Washington with Colonial Beach, Fredericksburg, Ashland, Richmond, and Norfolk. One company proposes to build a line from the southern terminus of the Washington, Alexandria & Mount Vernon Railroad at Mount Vernon to Colonial Beach and thence south through Fredericksburg to Ashland, near Richmond, where a line is already in operation to Richmond. The line will practically parallel the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad.

One of the advantages of this southern link from Washington to Richmond would be to bring Colonial Beach within one hour of this city, cutting off more than three hours of the time now consumed by the river.

New York capitalists are said to be backing the project, and already a substantial portion of the capital stock, which has been fixed at a minimum of $5,000,000, has been subscribed. The capital required for the opening of such a line north from Washington to Boston would not be large, since a system of independent lines is already constructed.

THE CONDEMNED MEN.

The Richmond Times Dispatch of Sunday said: "All day long Saturday Mr. Lewis H. Machen, of Alexandria, wrestled with Governor Mann for the life of his client, Calvin Johnson, one of the Alexandria negroes under sentence of death for the murder of Walter Chaltz, the Chicago artist. To Mr. Machen's efforts is due the fact that Johnson and his fellows are alive today, for the execution of their sentence has been deferred time and again since their conviction—twice by Governor Mann and two or three times by Governor Swanson. Every legal means has been used to save the men from the electric chair. At first a stay was secured to wait the action of the Court of Appeals on a petition for an appeal. This was denied, and another date was set for death. Then there was further delay to await the result of the trial of Henry Smith, the fourth of the quartet; and the one who furnished the principal testimony upon which Johnson, with Dick Pines and Eugene Dorsey, were convicted. Mr. Machen had a long morning session with the governor, the meeting being adjourned for lunch. It was resumed in the afternoon, and came to an end about 6 o'clock. The record is a large one, and the governor is determined to cover it carefully before taking final action. He said Saturday night that he did not expect to grant any more reprieves—his next action would be to drop the case, one way or the other. The date now set for the death of the four men is May 18, but it is likely that a reprieve of a day or two will be made for one or two of them, so as not to have any judicial deaths on one day. Smith has confessed that he swore falsely on the trials of the negroes, but his confessions are regarded lightly, since he avers that he was coerced. In fact, nobody believes a word he says. The cases being similar, Mr. Machen's efforts for his client have resulted in reprieves for the remaining convicts."

HOLY NAME SOCIETY.

A meeting of the Holy Name Society as held at the Young Men's Social Union Hall yesterday afternoon when the following officers were elected: Walter M. Donnelly, president; Thomas E. Ryan, vice president; Patrick F. Dowey, secretary, and S. A. Breen, treasurer.

Rev. John Handley, O. S. P., who presided at the organization in this city, made an interesting address previous to the election. As the name implies, the members promise to abstain from using the name of God in vain. Yesterday it was decided to meet the first Sunday afternoon each month in the Young Men's Social Union Hall, and arrangements will be made for addresses by prominent clergymen at each meeting. About 30 names are on the rolls.

A GENEROUS ACT.

The Southern Railway Company, with commendable liberality, has retired one of its oldest and most reliable passenger conductors and given them a generous pension for the remainder of their lives, thus relieving them from anxiety the evening of their lives. The conductors are Captains Wm. M. King and John E. Gentry, who have served the company faithfully and well for over twenty years. The many friends of the two gentlemen named above hope they may live many years to enjoy their pension.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Oston presiding] The following cases were disposed of this morning: Thomas Butler, colored, charged with being a prisoner to escape, forfeited his bail by failing to appear.

Ella Washington, colored, charged with being drunk and disorderly, forfeited her bail by failing to appear. Rachel Kaufman, colored, charged with disorderly conduct, was released on promising to return to her home in Washington.

VIRGINIA HIGHLANDS.

An extremely interesting and simple equipment has lately been invented by a young Alexandria architect, Milton Davis Morrill, who has, after a year's study and experiment, developed a standard sectional steel mould (equipment), which can be adapted to almost any work and which should do much to reduce the cost of permanent fireproof buildings.

The equipment comprises flanged plates 2 feet square, locked together and forming a continuous trough on top of the wall. Into this trough is poured the concrete and after this becomes hard a lower tier of plates is loosened, cleared and oiled and swung by hinged rods on top, and filled in turn. This process is continued until a floor is reached, when these plates are removed and laid flat, forming the centering for the floor slab.

The first building to be constructed is now well under way at Virginia Highlands, a few hundred feet south of the station at Addison, on the Alexandria & Mt. Vernon Railway.

When the plates are removed from the walls, a very smooth finish is left, requiring no plaster and a pleasing design is left by the jointing of the mould sections.

A brush coat of white cement is applied to the walls to give a uniform color and as a precaution against dampness.

It is proposed to demonstrate at Virginia Highlands that permanent, artistic houses can be built and sold at no greater cost than for the less substantial frame houses now constructed.

Messrs. Ballard and Tuleane, a Washington real estate firm, reported some time ago that one of the houses at Virginia Highlands would be filled with combustible materials and set on fire to show that they will not turn, and this residence will be of the type now being constructed.

The work has already inspected the work, attracted by this cost-saving home construction, and the whole suburb has been scientifically laid out with parks and drives, and the owners intend to make it a model community of which Alexandria and Washington can be justly proud.

The science of city and suburban planning is just now beginning to be studied, and the model concrete building is only one of the interesting features of the new undertaking now under way at Virginia Highlands.

Over 40 lots have already been disposed of and walks and improvements and sales have been progressing steadily. The following prominent Alexandrians are directors in the Virginia Highlands Association: Messrs. W. B. Smoot, T. C. Smith and O. C. Leadbetter.

The Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railway trains will on and after next Sunday stop at their new station, Virginia Highlands.

FUNERALS.

The members of R. E. Lee Camp Confederate Veterans, attended the funeral yesterday afternoon of Mr. Beverly R. Mason, of Washington. The interment was in Ivy Hill cemetery. The members of the camp to uniform assembled at Lee Camp Hall at 3:30 o'clock, and were conveyed to the cemetery in carriages. The services at the grave were conducted by Rev. Dr. S. A. Wallis and Rev. Mr. Smith, of Washington.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Eliza Groves took place from Mr. B. Wheatley's chapel this afternoon. Rev. P. P. Phillips, pastor of St. Paul's Church, officiated and the interment was in the Methodist Protestant cemetery.

The funeral of the late Edward Cowling took place yesterday afternoon from St. John's Episcopal Chapel. The services were conducted by Rev. S. A. Wallis, D. D. The remains were placed in the vault in Ivy Hill cemetery.

RIVER NOTES.

There was another abnormally high tide at an early hour this morning. The water was awash with some wharves and partly over others.

The steamer St. Johns is to be brought to the wharf of the Mutual Life Company at the foot of Cameron street where she will receive repairs and a general cleaning up. The steamer will be placed on the Colonial Beach route during the summer.

The steamer S. Utah, which had recently been in the dry dock at Newport News, is again running on the Norfolk route.

The steamer Washington, of the Norfolk and Washington line, is at Newport News. It is said that she has been sold to the same parties who recently purchased the Norfolk and that the two steamers are to run on Long Island Sound.

YESTERDAY.

Yesterday was a day of clouds and rain with an occasional glimpse of the sun and with thunder and lightning at intervals. The rainfall at times was quite heavy. Owing to these conditions the attendance at the several churches was comparatively small, but few people were on the streets and the day was a quiet one. The church services were conducted according to Saturday's announcement.

DEATH OF J. F. RYAN.

John Frank Ryan, a son of the late Timothy Ryan, died yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock at his home, 1020 Duke street, after a long illness. He was unmarried, and is survived by several sisters. Mr. Ryan was a native of Alexandria, and for a number of years was connected with the Southern Railway Company in a clerical capacity. He was about 40 years old.

The deceased had been in ill health during the past six months, and he had a fall yesterday which, it is thought, hastened his death.

FAILED TO AGREE.

J. S. B. Thompson and J. J. Dermody, the arbitrators, respectively, for the Southern Railway and the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, have notified Chairman Knapp and Dr. Nell, mediators under the Erdman act, that they have been unable to agree upon the third arbitrator of the controversy. It is likely that the mediators, at the expiration tomorrow of the necessary five days of arbitration, will designate the third member of the arbitration board.

The marriage of Miss Emma Norris Hume, daughter of Mrs. Frank Hume, and Mr. Lyon Sedgwick Horner, of Clarkburg, W. Va., will take place at the home of Mrs. Hume, on Massachusetts avenue, Washington, Wednesday at noon. Rev. P. P. Phillips, of St. Paul's Church, Alexandria, a cousin of Miss Hume, will perform the ceremony. Miss Mabel Hume will attend her sister as maid of honor and Mr. J. Carl Vance, of Clarkburg, will be best man.

Mr. Harry Meeks is suffering from a slight stroke of facial paralysis.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Sevier, who have spent several weeks in this city, will leave for their home in Bristol, Tenn., tonight.

Rev. Dr. Crawford, dean of the Episcopal Theological Seminary, yesterday delivered a sermon on tuberculosis at the Seminary.

Mr. Charles H. McKnight, of New York, is visiting relatives in this city.

THE FISHING SEASON.

The fishing season is lagging, and but few shad are arriving at this port. Roe shad sold in Washington virtually at $61 per hundred. The same variety was quoted in Alexandria this morning at $55 and rose at $30. No shad were on the benches in market this morning.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

There was no meeting of the city democratic committee on Saturday, a quorum failing to appear.

Passover services were held in the Jewish Synagogue in this city yesterday and last night.

A grasshopper sidewalk has been laid on the north side of Prince street between Fairfax and Lee.

Subscribers who fail to receive their papers regularly will please report promptly to this office.

The alarm of fire between 8 and 9 o'clock this morning was caused by a back fire in an automobile on north Pitt street. No damage resulted.

Rain, accompanied by thunder and lightning, set in at the close of Saturday and continued at intervals throughout the night, all day yesterday and part of last night.

From the Taylor Pharmacy on King street there has been sent to this office a sample package of whipped cream chocolate, delightfully flavored and altogether delicious.

SERVICES BEGIN TONIGHT.

Evangelistic services will begin at the Second Presbyterian Church tonight at 8 o'clock. Rev. E. T. Wellford and his wife will arrive from Newport News this afternoon and will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Howard at their home on south Washington street.

Dr. Wellford will preach tonight. He is an eloquent and forceful speaker, and will doubtless be heard by a large congregation. Mr. G. B. Kennedy will have charge of the music, which insures its being attractive and inspiring. Beginning Tuesday a service will be held at 3:15 o'clock each afternoon. These afternoon services will be primarily Bible studies. A cordial invitation is extended to the whole city to attend all the services. Many people remember the inspiring meetings held by Dr. Flinn in this church two years ago, and will want to get the benefit of these services.

ST. MARY'S ALUMNAE.

At the meeting of the Alumnae of St. Mary's Academy held yesterday afternoon the following officers were elected: President, Miss Margie Gilly; vice president, Miss James Biles; secretary, Miss Ella Hall; treasurer, Miss Sallie Harlow; historian, Miss Agnes Gilroy; librarian, Miss Rosa Oilly.

STEAMER LABELLED.

Mr. Joseph F. Glover, deputy U. S. marshal, last week labelled the steamer Fortuna as a "leak" landing, a short distance south of Aquia creek. This action was taken at the instance of the Elizabeth City Iron Works and Supply Company, which has filed a claim against the steamer. The case will come up in the U. S. District Court in this city on the 10th proximo.

SUICIDE.

The "Big O to Show" arrived in Washington Saturday night, and yesterday morning at an early hour Mary Jenkins, the "Spider Girl" was found dead in her bed in a cheap lodging house where the members of the company were staying. Mary had carefully pinned to the bedclothing a scrap of paper telling where her relatives could be located, and had then turned on the gas and asphyxiated herself. The note gave the address of a brother in Florida. Another note, partially completed, read:

"If anything happens to me"—that was all. She had not the nerve to finish it.

"Big O to," head of the show, said, "The poor girl jumped in Florida. She was fascinated with show life. But it isn't. We are going to ship her body back to her people."
